B. Reading Comprehension:(16m)

Read the following passage carefully, then do as required below:

John Chaney, one of America's most famous writers of adventure tales, was born in California in 1876. During his life, John worked at many jobs. His various life experiences would become the source for his writing.

John loved to read. As a teenager, he spent many hours reading books at the Oakland, California, public library. He joined college at the University of California at Berkeley but he stayed for only six months. He thought Berkeley was dull and wanted to do something exciting.

While living in different cities, John wrote stories about working people. He knew and understood their problems. He worked as a sailor, farmer, factory worker and a miner, to name just a few of his many jobs.

John grew up near the waterfront in Oakland. When he was fifteen years old, he bought a small sailboat called a sloop. Later he sailed to Japan on a schooner, which is a much larger sailing boat.

As an adult, John worked as a miner digging for gold. During this time, he discovered that people he worked with enjoyed listening to the stories he made up with his rich imagination. John entertained the miners with story after story. Later, using his experiences, he created many more colorful stories.

John lived an exciting life. Once John determined that he was going to be a writer, nothing could stop him. His goal was to write at least one thousand words every day. As a writer, he published fifty-one books. He was the best-selling and highest-paid author of his day. Many people also considered him to be the best writer.
